Leonardo is fighting a life-threatening cancer

Leonardo is a four-year-old from London who loves superheroes and motorcycles.

In May 2022, Leonardo was diagnosed with high-risk neuroblastoma and sadly towards the end of frontline treatment scans showed new areas of disease.

As relapsed neuroblastoma is particularly challenging to treat, Leonardo's family are fundraising for potentially lifesaving treatment that is currently not available through the NHS that they hope will get him back into remission.
